

An Introduction to Anatomy & Physiology

By Leslie Keegan & Dr Peter Ellis

16 December 2009

12.30pm - 2.30pm

Register for your place FREE (Donations invited in aid of the Spinal Injuries Association)

7 Bedford Row

London

WC1R 4BS

invitation

An Introduction to Anatomy & Physiology

NOW AVAILABLE VIA THE WEB

7 BEDFORD ROW is pleased to invite you to a lunchtime training session.

The aim is to assist trainees and junior level practitioners seeking a greater understanding in this area of Clinical Negligence.

The Speakers

Leslie Keegan

Leslie will be speaking on Neurology, the Central Nervous System and the Musculoskeletal System.

Leslie specialises in Clinical Negligence, particularly catastrophic brain injury. In The Legal 500 2009, he is recognised as "particularly expert in brain injury."

Chambers & Partners 2010 says Leslie "has a brilliant mind for quantum. Solicitors appreciate his 'nothing is too much trouble' attitude."

Leslie is also principal lecturer for the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists for newly qualified consultants.

Leslie is the force behind Chambers' medico-legal seminar programme.

Dr Peter Ellis

Peter will be speaking on the Cardiovascular, Digestive, Respiratory and Urinary Systems.

Peter is recognised as a Leader at the Bar in Clinical Negligence. Chambers & Partners 2010 says

"Peter Ellis is highly recommended for his work on inquests and fatal civil claims. Interviewees explain that 'you win cases with him because he helps everyone through the evidence calmly and effectively and makes over-aggressive hired guns seem foolish.'"

Venue

This seminar will take place on 16th December 2009 at 7 Bedford Row, London, WC1R 4BS. Registration and refreshments at 12.15pm. The talk will commence at 12.30pm.

2.30pm - Q&A followed by a light lunch and refreshments.

This seminar is accredited with 2 CPD

You can also view this session as a webinar where it will still be possible to obtain 2 CPD hours. On booking your place please ask for instructions to join via the web.

RSVP

Petra Bailey 7 Bedford Row, London, WC1R 4BS

pbailey@7br.co.uk