

Phil is a Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon at the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital. He has been in post for 15 years, working in one of the busiest arthroplasty and trauma units in the country. His clinical interest lies in knee replacement surgery, with an emphasis on unicompartamental and revision knee surgery. He has been heavily involved in training, having served as the Deputy Training Programme Director for the East of England. He is a founder member of the Revision Knee Working Group, a nationwide committee tasked with implementing rationalisation of revision knee surgery in the UK. He undertakes negligence work in the field of knee arthroplasty.