

JAMIL MOHAMMED

Year of call

Jamil has a strong practice in Family Law; acting in both private and public law proceedings.

Jamil accepts an array of instructions including cases of a complex and contested nature in children matters and financial disputes, following relationship breakdowns. His practice encompasses wide-ranging issues including: child arrangement orders, financial remedies, dispute resolution, non-molestation orders, occupation orders, urgent injunctions, Fact Finding and Final hearings. As well as cases involving international relocation and child abduction.

Private Children

Jamil often works with an array of clients within children proceedings, including negotiating contact arrangements, enforcement of child contact arrangement. He is well equipped in dealing with high conflict cases as well as cases with welfare concerns and parental alienation.

He has negotiated complex but clear child arrangement orders for both applicants and respondents, including for cross-border contact.

To date Jamil has represented applicants in Applications to relocate both within and out of the jurisdiction.

Family Law Act

Jamil has plenty of experience dealing with applications for Non-molestation and Occupation orders under Part IV, whether applying for or resisting. He is also used to advising on how such orders could impact upon potential private child and/or financial remedy proceedings.

Family Finance

Jamil is experienced in many aspects of matrimonial finance ranging from needs-based matters to high net worth cases. He has a great deal of experience in dealing with cases involving pre-marital assets, non-disclosure and dissipation of assets. He has experience at each stage of financial remedy proceedings and applications from first appointment to final hearing. As well as the wherewithal to sensibly negotiate towards achieving a final settlement ahead of trial.

Jamil is known for his levelheadedness, client care, in depth analysis and hands on approach to every case, with chambers often receiving feedback echoing the same, from both solicitors and clients.
